Narrative:

On Friday, September 25, 2009, Officers from the Youth Services Section (YSS) of the Vacaville Police Department were working at the Vacaville High School Homecoming game and dance specifically to enforce alcoholic beverage violations. During the course of the evening, one adult (Hutchinson) was found on the campus under the influence of alcohol, which is a violation of his probation terms. Suspect Hutchinson was arrested and booked into the Solano County Jail. He was with a 17 year old male who was in possession of an alcoholic beverage. The juvenile was cited for violation of being a minor in possession of an alcoholic beverage and probation violation and released to his guardian.

In a separate incident, another 17 year old male was found to be in possession of less than one ounce of marijuana on school grounds. He was cited for the misdemeanor violation and probation violation and released to his parent.

In two other unrelated contacts, two female teens were found to have consumed small amounts of an alcoholic beverage but were not considered to be under the influence and were not on probation. They were both removed from the school function and released to their respective guardians.

The primary goal of the enforcement action is to reduce the availability and consumption of alcoholic beverages by minors. This operation was made possible by funding from a Grant that was awarded to the Vacaville Police Department by the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.
