SWAT TRAINING TO TAKE PLACE WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 2011 IN 500 BLOCK OF ELMIRA

Vacaville police are alerting residents to Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) training in the area near the Solano Irrigation District (SID) property next week.

From noon until 10:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 27, 2011, there will be a combined training for the Vacaville Police Department's SWAT team and Critical Incident Negotiations Team (CINT) at the Solano Irrigation District property, 508 Elmira Road, just west of the Vacaville Elmira Cemetery, and between Elmira Road and Marshall Road. This will be scenario-based training and will not be an actual event. Signs will be posted in the area indicating that this is police training.

There will be a significant police presence during the training period and it is possible that residents may hear police announcements and loud noises coming from the training area. Some of the noises may include glass breaking and minor explosions. Residents should not be alarmed as the explosions are just part of the training be conducted by the SWAT team. The loud noises will conclude at approximately sunset, about 8:00 p.m.; however, training and police presence will be seen until 10:00 p.m.

Those with questions or concerns should contact the Police Department at 707-449-5200.
